BRIDGEPORT HAPPENINGS.

Events of a Day in the Town at the End of the Bridge.

Hon. W. V. Campbell, now located at Joplin, Mo., formerly one of the stalwart and ardent Democrats of eastern Ohio, has made application to the leaders of the Republican club in this city for membership in the same. This will indeed be gratifying news to his many friends in this city, who labored in vain for years to convert him, but owing to the fact that a few of his many friends here were believers in the same faith, they, by hard work, succeeded in keeping him in line. However, he has seen the error of his way in that mineral state and seeks admission into the Republican ranks and the influence at work for his betterment have at last gained their point. The application was received by the official board of the McKinley and Roosevelt campaign club already organized in this city and the officials after due consideration and being apprised of the fact that he had been a Democrat so long and his mind tinted with the wrong that they feared it would take some time for him to gain a position beneficial to good Republicanism. The board decided, however, to accept him on seventeen years' probation and if found worthy at the expiration of that time, would be granted all the privileges of the many staunch Republicans of this vicinity. This is only a sample of many similar cases since the Kansas City convention where Democrats have left the fold and joined the good old party in their triumphant march to a glorious victory this fall.

Johnson Brown, a resident of this city, met with rather a bad accident yesterday. He was driving a pony hitched to a wagon along Main street, when a street car passing scared the animal and backed into the moving car, completely smashing the wagon and throwing the occupants to the ground. Brown was badly sprained and bruised, but the animal escaped more fortunately. For sale—A pony, cheap, inquire of Johnson Brown.

The work of paving Bank street will be finished this week. It was the intention of the city authorities to have the work on this street started, but when the contractor attempted to begin the same for use yesterday afternoon, he evidently discovered there was some trick in melting tar, as he could not get it in shape to use, consequently the street will not be tarred.

The McKinley and Roosevelt Campaign Club will meet this evening at the city building promptly at 7:30 o'clock. A drum corps will be upon the streets early in the evening, appraising the citizens of the meeting. All Republicans are urged to be present, as the question of uniforms will be discussed and decided upon.
